What is the Charles Seller Foundation?

The Charles Seller Foundation is a 501c3 non-profit organization that has been based in Bloomfield, NJ since 1950. A young man named Charles Seller was struck by a train and lost his leg. His friends came together, put on a variety show and called it "Talent Time". A tradition was born! The Charles Seller Foundation's mission is to financially aid individuals in the area with high medical bills by producing and performing a musical each summer. The organization now holds various fundraisers throughout the year. Our membership is made up of members ages fourteen to thirty (however many individuals outside of that age range help each year!) The organization is governed by an executive board who also adheres to the age requirement. We strive to educate our members in all aspects of theatre, whether it is on stage or off!

Matteo is an active boy who loves to play sports, video games, and with dinosaurs. His favorite food is pasta and he loves to play with his sister Camila! “Mighty Matteo” as he is so affectionately called, has been a superhero through it all. Directors Note

“There’s a phrase that’s become very current in recent years—called paying it forward. I think I had been so gratified by how good people were to me that from the start I found myself wanting to do what I now think paying it forward means. You won’t necessarily know these people; it won’t matter. What matters is whatever your situation becomes, wherever you are, pay it forward in ways that can be sensitive to people’s needs and helpful to them.” -Charles Seller

Determination. Compassion. Integrity. Community. Optimism. Longevity.

As directors, we sat down and challenged ourselves to define The Charles Seller Foundation in six words. Seventy-five years is a huge milestone, not only for the current members of the foundation, but for the people who came before us. The determination showed by the founding community, who took the initiative to bring together a group to support Charlie in his time of need. The compassion that Charlie had to donate some of what he received back to continue on this tradition of supporting others. These are traits that have remained reflected in the actions of our organization’s members throughout the years and our continuous mission to provide that same support to those in our community.

Generations of youth and young adults have worked in collaboration with one another to prioritize a common goal that is bigger than themselves. Through this we have created a community centered around a common goal: art as a beacon for providing support to members of our community. Integrity, whether in service or in friendships, can be seen through our member’s relentless dedication to authenticity and expression. This space allows any human to be completely themselves, and has allowed for a space in which everyone involved prioritizes joining together to make an impact larger than themselves. These values have allowed lifelong friendships to be forged and keeps members engaged with the greater community both on and off stage. Off stage within the organization one will find a vibrant community of kind and considerate people from various stages of life, forming lifelong bonds with one another through the shared interest and passion for helping others.

This foundation has been built on 75 years worth of hope and optimism for the future of this very community. Our common goals, common love, and common values are the beating heart of the organization. Without heart, passion is absent. This vital community keeps the foundation moving, through thick or thin. Our commitment to longevity is essential, for our generation and for the ones to follow.

Today and throughout this year we celebrate not only the tradition of service that has been upheld but also the continuation of this tradition for years to come.

And so, we strive to continue on the tradition of putting others before ourselves even if we may not know them, being helpful where we can, and paying it forward.

With endless gratitude, Victoria, Mikayla and Caitlin ♥

President's Note

"Pay it forward in ways that can be sensitive to people's needs and helpful to them"

-Charles Seller "70 Years of Service" Documentary

Seventy-five years ago, Charles Seller made the inspiring decision to pay it forward, ensuring that the support he received would continue to benefit others. In a world where kindness and compassion often seem overlooked, I am deeply honored to carry on the legacy of Charles Seller and his family as we celebrate 75 remarkable years of this extraordinary organization

Seventy-five years of determination, compassion, integrity, community, optimism, and longevity—these are just some of the values that define The Charles Seller Foundation. It is my great pleasure to welcome you to the Charles Seller Foundation's 75th Anniversary Cabaret. My name is Caitlin Miller, and I am honored to serve as the Foundation's President. We are thrilled to begin this milestone year with such a spectacular celebration.

I began my journey with the organization behind the scenes in 2022, working on costumes and operating the spotlight for Seussical. From the very beginning, I could feel the strong sense of community, which inspired me to become more involved. In 2023, I took on greater responsibilities, working as an assistant choreographer and performing as part of the ensemble in Newsies. That same year, with encouragement from Victoria, I ran for the Executive Board and was honored to be elected Treasurer. In 2024, I embraced my most significant roles yet, choreographing Back to the '70s Cabaret and Godspell while also performing as part of the ensemble for both productions. My involvement in the organization has been transformative, helping me grow into a stronger and more confident person. Along the way, I've had the privilege of meeting incredible people who have become lifelong friends. I will always be grateful to the Charles Seller Foundation for giving me the opportunity to contribute to our community and be part of something so meaningful.

In case you're not familiar, the foundation's story began in 1950 when a young man named Charles Seller was struck by a train, resulting in the loss of one of his legs. To support Charlie and help with his medical bills, his friends came together to create a show called Talent Time. Featuring original songs, dances, and sets, the show was a hit within the community and sparked a tradition in Bloomfield that has thrived for 75 years. Each year, the Charles Seller Foundation and its Talent Time Players produce a musical to assist someone in the area facing significant medical expenses. For 2025, our efforts are dedicated to supporting Matteo Campoverde of Bloomfield.

This organization would not be possible without all the people that are giving their all behind the scenes:

To our Executive Board, Victoria, Azael, Katelyn, Mike, and Michele; we have already accomplished so much in such little time. I am so appreciative to all of you. This year has already been so special and I'm so excited for what's to come!

To our Production Team, Victoria, Mikayla, and Azael; I don't know how we accomplished this, but we did! Thank you for all the hard work, talent, and dedication you put into this production, I am so proud of us!

To our Junior Producers, Riley and Haley; thank you both for all the behind the scenes work you've done! This production would not have run as smoothly as it did without the two of you!

To our Advisory Board, Jim, Abby, Tracey, Ralph, Courtney, KG, and Johnny C. Thank you for always guiding us in the right direction and for always looking out for what is in the best interest of the organization. All of your insights have allowed us all as an organization to improve our standards for ourselves and focus on why we are all here!

To our Board of Trustees, Schuyler, Ian, Gaylene, Paul, Janine and, of course, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Seller Jr. for ensuring that future generations are able to see the magic made by this foundation.

A special shoutout to Christian Sebek for donating his time and talent to help our cast sound as amazing as they do!

I would also like to thank our crew at the soundboard, light board and backstage. Thank you to our front of house members and to those who have lended a helping hand without question.

To our wonderful cast, your dedication and talent is unbelievable! I am so honored to share the stage with all of you as we celebrate this incredible milestone year. Break a leg!

Additionally, I would like to thank Bloomfield Board of Education, the custodial staff, and the security for allowing us to utilize the space and keeping us safe during rehearsals. Thank you, Mr. Doemling, Mr. Turano, and the Bloomfield Theater department especially, for granting us use of your stunning stage and plentiful resources. A huge thank you, as well, to Grace Episcopal Church and Christ Episcopal Church for accommodating us and allowing us to use your wonderful facilities.

Thank you to our members, audience, alumni, and community. Your support is why this organization has been so successful for 75 years. Thank you for always being there, whether it be performing, volunteering, helping backstage, or in the audience.

And finally, last but certainly not least, to Matteo and family, thank you for allowing us to join your family and get to know you. It has been an honor thus far, and this is just the beginning. I am looking forward to a wonderful year ahead working with you. Please know that you are now a part of our family and we will forever be there for you to turn to in times of need.

This cabaret is just the very beginning of one of the most memorable years of The Charles Seller Foundation. I am beyond excited for you all to see the incredible cabaret we've been working on! I could not be more grateful for all of you. Thank you.

Joining CSF has taught them so many valuable lessons that little Diogo could only dream of. They'd like to thank their Mother, Brother, Friends, and everyone who made it possible for them to stand on this stage!

Michael Ricciardone III: Michael Ricciardone III is an actor based in North Jersey. CSF: Godspell (Jesus), Newsies (Jack Kelly). Other credits: 25th Annual... Spelling Bee (Panch), Puffs (Narrator), The Music Man (Harold Hill), 9 to 5 (Franklin Hart), The Addams Family (Lucas Beineke).

Jason Serrano: Jason Serrano is excited to be a part of his 4th Charles seller production with his other works, including newsies, Godspell, and the back to the 70s cabaret. Jason would also like to thank his friends: Xander, Rashelle and Ralph T as well as his family.

Spencer Serritella: Spencer Serritella is super excited to be part of another CSF cabaret! Their involvement with the organization began in 2021, playing Lurch in that summer's production of The Addams Family. Spencer has joined every CSF cabaret and summer show since then, very happy that they have the opportunity year after year to participate in musical theater for such a good cause. Spencer currently attends William Paterson University of New Jersey as a communications major, where they have also participated in a number of theater productions. In their spare time, Spencer enjoys a wide variety of movies and video games, as well as spending quality time with their dogs. They can't wait to see what the future holds for the Charles Seller Foundation; they'll be there every step of the way! Here's to many more years of charity through the arts!

Joseph Verga: This is Joseph's third production with the Charles Seller Foundation. In the past he was the doctor in 9 to 5, Olin in Music Man, Senator Fipp in Urinetown, and Erroneous in A Funny Thing Happened On The Way To The Forum. With the foundation, he has played a Pharisee in Godspell and Bunsen in Newsies. He hopes you really enjoy the show!
